Who are the BMC?

The British Mountaineering Council is the membership organisation and national governing body for mountaineers, climbers, and hillwalkers. Its purpose is to protect wild spaces and support mountain goers in their adventures, sharing vital knowledge and giving the outdoor community a strong voice. The BMC campaigns for freedom of access and the right to roam, funds footpath repairs and runs campaigns to clean up our hills.

Benefits of BMC Membership

By joining the BMC today, you will support the essential work we do and add your voice to the 80,000+ voices fighting to protect the outdoor environment and tackle the impact of climate change so that people can pursue their passion, now and for future generations. Plus:
